

Places to Call Home

E4C programs meet a wide range of housing needs, providing sheltered, supervised, and independent living situations. Believing that everyone deserves more than just a roof over their heads, we are committed to providing and advocating for a range of affordable housing alternatives where those of modest incomes can have a safe and affordable place to call home.

Supported Housing

Meadow's Place, a partnership project of E4C and Innovative Housing Society offers long-term housing to 20 men with a history of ongoing mental illness. Meadow's Lodge and its four satellite houses are in the McCauley neighbourhood. The program offers graduated support as needed as well as meals if desired.

McCauley Apartments, a partnership between E4C and Capital Region Housing Corporation contains two-bedroom subsidized suites-some for people on limited incomes and some for those with mental illnesses. It also promotes community participation and development.

Our Place - offers long-term room and board for women over 18 years of age with a history of homelessness and/or mental illness. Our Place features 10 private rooms with communal dining, living, and quiet rooms and is wheelchair accessible.
